A modern living and dining area. On the left, a fireplace is built into a wall of large, light-colored stone tiles. Below the fireplace is a white floating shelf with a few decorative items. In the center, a dark leather sofa faces a coffee table with a light-colored bowl on it. To the right, a dining table with a grey top and dark base is surrounded by chairs. Large windows in the background let in natural light, and a painting hangs on the wall in the dining area.
